Local History

Pay of $30 a week for six days of work, arbitrary firings, salary cuts, and ridiculous schedules. That's what brought the Guild to the newsrooms of Toronto in the Dirty Thirties. And since then, SONG has been working hard to get a better deal first for newspaper and now for all media employees.

It seems odd now, but in the 1930's, working Canadians looked south of the border when they wanted strong, dynamic and progressive union representation. For news industry employees, the obvious choice was the American Newspaper Guild, founded in 1933 by a man who was then one of the most well-known columnists in North America, Heywood Broun.

While skilled craft workers such as printers and press operators had long been organized at most major papers, the union idea was new to reporters, editors, advertising sales staff, and circulation and clerical workers.

But a small group of Toronto newsroom workers — many of them women, who were only a small minority of editorial staffers in those days — brought the American Newspaper Guild to Canada in September 1936 with the daunting task of organizing the newsrooms of the four Toronto dailies then publishing.

The new local was called the Toronto Newspaper Guild, Local 87 of the ANG, and its first decade was largely a story of failure. With legal protections weak, publishers were able to get away with subtle and not-so-subtle pressure tactics in order to prevent unions from taking root.

Even at the Toronto Daily Star, known as a friend of labour (and founded by striking printers in the 1890s) an attempt in the early 40s to negotiate a contract collapsed after the company demoted known union supporters and engaged in the kind of blatant intimidation that is outlawed today.

The ANG revoked the charter of the Toronto local in 1943.

The First Contract

But the need and desire for a union didn't die. In 1948, the Toronto Newspaper Guild was resurrected and was able to demonstrate majority support in the Star newsroom.

That meant it could be certified by the Ontario Labour Relations Board under newly enacted labour laws, with the result that the company was obliged to bargain with the union.

The new union's first president was Beland Honderich, later to become publisher and part-owner of the Star. Honderich set the tone for this new union when he wrote in the first issue of the local union's newsletter: "We are now trade unionists...members of that great body of men and women who have been striving for years to improve the living standards of Canadian workers...A union, if it is to be successful, must be representative...it must be democratic..."

Those goals continue to motivate this union.

After several months of bargaining, the Guild's first contract in Toronto and indeed the first ANG contract in Canada was signed in April, 1949, containing the milestone pay rate of $80 a week for reporters/photographers with five years of experience.

The Star proclaimed itself on its news pages as the "first newspaper in Canada to establish the five-day, 40-hour week for editorial employees...it now becomes the first and only Toronto daily newspaper to pay its editorial workers time-and-a-half in cash for overtime."

The Guild was on its way. By 1953, the newsroom of the Toronto Telegram (a paper which eventually folded in 1971) was under Guild contract, and the Globe and Mail followed two years later. At the same time, other departments at the Star followed the newsroom into the union, so that the Guild soon represented advertising sales staff, circulation employees, delivery drivers and accounting clerks totaling almost 1300 members.

Other early Guild papers in Ontario were the Toronto edition of the Daily Racing Form, and the Brantford Expositor, whose mid-1950s unionization marked the local's first foray outside Toronto.

Employees made major gains in wages, benefits and working conditions in those early years, and were generally able to do it without having to resort to strike action.

The first strike in the young local's history took place at the Racing Form in July of 1951. It lasted all of 30 minutes. All 13 members went on strike when the employer refused to implement wage increases that had need negotiated. They returned to work with guarantees that all members would get their increases and they did.

The First Strike

When the Guild's first major strike came, it was at a small paper, and it was a messy one.

Employees at the Thomson-owned Oshawa Times walked out in 1966 in a two-week strike that became one of the biggest Canadian labour battles of the era. While the strike involved only 35 employees, the courts granted a controversial injunction limiting picketing.

That prompted a rebellion in the strong union town, and picket lines swelled to more than 1,000 with the support of other unions.

When the local sheriff showed up to try to enforce the injunction, he was pelted with snowballs and beat a hasty retreat.

Newspaper publishers were outraged, but the strike was settled soon after. A second strike in Oshawa was also long and difficult in 1995 and created the local union's first strike paper operating in competition with the Times. At the end of the strike neither paper survived.

In 1955 the young local union had to confront the loss of one of its early activists and a former president A.O. (Alf) Tate, a Star photographer who was killed in a work accident. Tate and reporter Doug Cronk were assigned to report on a hurricane off the coast of Florida when their plane went missing. Their bodies were never found.

The union honoured Tate by creating a journalism scholarship in his name.

Originally, the scholarship was awarded to a needy grade 11 student who demonstrated ability and was selected by the Toronto School Board. Today the local maintains the A.O. Tate scholarship for a journalism student at Ryerson University in Toronto.

Fred Jones followed Tate as local union president. Jones left the local to work for the international union as a Canadian representative where he continued to work with local 87.

He later returned to the local as Executive Secretary. His contribution to the union has also been recognized with an internal award. Every year a local activist is granted an educational subsidy in Jones' honour.

Co-operation between the Guild and other newspaper unions was one of the keys to the gains at the Toronto dailies in the 1950s, but the solidarity was strained in the wake of a disastrous strike by the printers (members of the International Typographical Union) in 1964. The printers at all three dailies took a stand against technological change, but Guild members continued working, and the papers continued publishing with the help of strikebreakers. The unionized printers never went back to work.

Growth in the 60s, 70s

The late '60s and the 1970s were a more stable period for the union, as the Guild settled into perhaps a too-cosy relationship with the newspaper companies. Organizing of new groups was given little priority. The union, recognizing it was more than just a Toronto organization, changed its name in the late 70s to Southern Ontario Newspaper Guild, but made no serious effort to expand.

The parent union, recognizing it had members outside the United States, changed its name from American Newspaper Guild to The Newspaper Guild. The early 1970s also saw the first major stirrings of Canadian nationalism within the union, as the Toronto Guild pressed with only minimal success for more Canadian autonomy within the international structure.

The local also had stable leadership through these years. Jack Dobson of the Globe and Mail served 8 terms as local president from 1959 through 1966 when he resigned to become a local union staff representative. Later, John Lowe of the Star led the union for 9 terms from 1976 through 1984. While a woman was not president until 1989 when Gail Lem was first elected, women played a key role in the union and its executive from the earliest days.

Star reporter Judith Robinson was part of the 1939 organizing committee and women like Lillian Thain and Nadia Bozinoff also of the Star, Isabel Greenwood and Jean Pakenham of the Telegram and Margaret Daly of the Star all made fundamental contributions to the union's successes.

The 1980s saw a shakeup at SONG, as new officers were elected with a mandate to organize more workplaces and take a more aggressive approach to negotiations.

At the bargaining table this new approach saw the Guild's first strike ever at the Toronto Star, in 1983. The 1,500 SONG members were off the job for only four days, including a weekend, but the strike marked a turning point, and companies got the message that they couldn't take the union for granted.

Meanwhile at the Globe and Mail, Guild employees took their first ever strike vote in 1982, also marking a new era in relations with the company. Those negotiations ended without a strike, and the Globe unit of SONG still has a strike-free record.

Organizing took off in the early '80s, with the Hamilton Spectator newsroom joining SONG and with the landmark organizing drive at Maclean's magazine, where editorial staff went on strike for two weeks in 1983 and gained their first contract. Maclean's part-time employees joined the union in 2005 and these two groups represent the only unionized operations in the Rogers Publishing empire. The Globe and Mail's outside circulation department and advertising staff also went union.

With those successes, news industry workers saw the benefits of unionization. By the mid-80s, editorial employees at the Metroland chain of non-daily papers joined SONG and bargained a contract that is seen as the pace-setter in the community newspaper sector. Soon employees of other non-dailies sought out SONG, and the union was expanding rapidly.

In the late 1980's, two of the largest non-union newsrooms in the province — the London Free Press and Kitchener-Waterloo Record — joined SONG. This was followed by organizing at a number of small Thomson-owned papers. Following long and bitter — but successful — first-contract strikes at Thomson papers in Guelph and Cambridge, SONG was able to organize employees at Thomson outlets in Belleville, Chatham, Niagara Falls and Midland. Contracts at all these papers made major improvements in wages.

The 1980's also saw a move for the Guild offices to its current home at 1253 Queen St. E., just east of Leslie St. In 1984, SONG purchased the two-storey former Target air conditioning and heating contractor building for $170,000. With the rapid expansion of membership and units, the former quarters on the ground floor and basement of a townhouse at 219 Jarvis St. had become cramped.

Despite layoffs and hiring freezes at many papers during the 1990s, SONG's membership continued to grow through organizing.

Going Canadian

Throughout the period of expansion in the 1990's, the leadership of SONG became increasingly frustrated with the lack of attention and service that the Newspaper Guild's Washington head office was providing to Canadians. After a long and unsuccessful campaign for more Canadian autonomy within the Guild international, SONG members voted in 1994 to sever ties with The Newspaper Guild. Shortly afterwards, SONG affiliated with the Communications, Energy and Paperworkers Union of Canada (CEP), an all-Canadian union and Canada's largest media union.

The Guild and the Star again did battle in 1992 during a one-month strike over the company's plans to contract-out its delivery department. The strike failed to stop the company's plans, but got a better deal for the laid-off employees.

In 1996, SONG's long-time president, Gail Lem of the Globe and Mail unit, was elected as the CEP's national vice-president of media, the top officer for the CEP's 15,000-strong media section, representing employees in print and broadcast across Canada. She was followed in that post by Peter Murdoch who is a former Hamilton Spectator reporter and SONG representative.

Despite restrictive labour laws passed by the Conservative government elected in Ontario in 1995, SONG has continued to organize, bringing in employees of ethnic community newspapers at Sing Tao Daily, Share, the Korea Times and the World Journal. In early 2002 a further 350 employees of the London Free Press chose union representation with SONG.

Their Quebecor cousins in the Toronto Sun newsroom joined up in early 2003, followed closely by the Local's first broadcasting bargaining units at CHUM's New PL/WI/NX now known as the A Channel and Corus. Soon after pre-press employees at the Toronto Sun and editorial employees at the Ottawa Sun chose SONG.

In addition, employees at the Stratford Beacon Herald and the Simcoe Reformer and the free daily Metro have joined SONG. By 2004, the Local represented media workers in newspapers, magazines, book publishing, television and specialty broadcasting, radio and internet: in recognition of this diversity, we changed the name of our Local to the Southern Ontario Newsmedia Guild.□□

Expanding Beyond Southern Ontario

In 2008, SONG expanded in a big way to the Ottawa area where we'd already organized the Ottawa Sun.

Beginning in January, 2008, we added seven media units from the former Local 102-O, including the House of Commons broadcast/technical group, the Ottawa Citizen mailroom, the Winchester Press, the Glengarry News, the Pembroke Observer and the audio-video units, TelAv and ELC.

The organizing continued with the addition of the Sarnia Observer editorial department in late 2008. In 2010 both the Metroland Ottawa and the Chinese-language Ming Pao units were added. Ming Pao workers didn't get their first contract, however, until 2012 following a strike and government-ordered first contract arbitration.

Despite the organizing efforts of Locals like 87M, the national union during the first decade of the 21st Century suffered major membership declines due to the effect of globalization and the 2009 financial crisis. Many jobs in the heavily-unionized manufacturing sector were outsourced to low-wage countries in Asia. This led to merger discussions between CEP and the Canadian Auto Workers which was consummated with the creation of a new union, Unifor, on Aug. 31, 2013. Unifor instantly became the largest private-sector union in Canada and a formidable force for worker rights and social justice.

With the merger, CEP Local 87M became Unifor Local 87M. We now represents almost 3,000 workers in all aspects of the media in Ontario and 34 different workplaces. The local and its members confront daily issues of media concentration, editorial integrity, contracting out, job security, pensions and the declining circulation of paid daily newspapers.

The local has had, and continues to have, success in supporting its members on these issues because of the willingness of members to volunteer their time and use their energy and creativity. Some take time from their careers to work full-time as local president or on local staff. In addition, the local has been well served by the dedication of its staff hired from outside the membership. Men and women who have spent countless hours in the negotiation and administration of collective agreements and ensuring the infrastructure of the local functioned on a day-to-day basis.

Union stewards and executive members may utilize the e-mail system during working hours for incidental purposes restricted to the administration of their duties as stewards or executive members. Employees may use the e-mail system during working hours for the purpose of contacting a union steward or executive member to request assistance.

It is understood that the use of these company communication tools is intended to facilitate communications within the bargaining unit and is not meant to be used as a forum for personal attacks. All communications are to be with bargaining unit members only.

As a courtesy, it is agreed that the Union will provide the Director of Human Resources with a copy of posted bulletin board material.

306 Union-Management Committee

Union-management meetings for the purpose of discussing matters of mutual concern, excluding grievances, shall be held during working hours when requested by either party provided there is a substantive agenda to discuss. The parties shall endeavour to provide each other with agenda items one week prior to the meeting. The attendance at the meeting shall be limited to the following: the bargaining unit chair; a Unifor National Representative or Local 87-M representative; the Editor-in-Chief (or designate) and a representative of the Human Resources department. An additional bargaining unit member and / or management member may attend the meeting.

307 Union Meetings

The Employer may permit the Union's officers and stewards to hold Union meetings (including elections) at the workplace, subject to the availability of space and operational requirements.

ARTICLE 4 - MANAGEMENT RIGHTS

401 Management's Reserved Rights

The Union agrees that it is the exclusive right of the Employer to manage its business in every respect and, without restricting the generality of the foregoing, to plan, direct and control its operations, systems, publications, procedures including the manner in which and by whom work shall be done and to maintain order and efficiency and to hire, transfer, classify, appoint, promote, layoff and recall employees and to suspend, demote, discharge or otherwise discipline employees for just cause. The Employer agrees that, in the exercise of its rights, it shall act in a manner that is fair and reasonable and consistent with the terms and conditions of the Collective Agreement.

Scheduling of employees for employment and vacation purposes in all categories remains the right of management. Should a member of the bargaining unit be assigned to create staff schedules or track vacation, that employee will be entitled to provisions included in Article 15.04.

The Company agrees that it shall not use hiring and promotion to subvert the seniority provisions of the collective agreement.

402 Restrictions on Performing Bargaining Unit Work

In the Editorial Department, the Employer shall not assign to any employee outside the bargaining unit covered by this Agreement any work now done by employees within the bargaining unit except to the extent performed prior to January 2003. No excluded employee shall write stories (not columns) or take pictures without the consent of the union which shall not be unreasonably withheld. The employer will make every reasonable effort to locate the responsible union representative as provided in article 301 to seek this consent and if that effort is not successful the employer may publish.

403 Students

There shall be up to three (3) unpaid journalism interns in the editorial department, including at least one intern in the photo area and the number of interns scheduled on a shift shall not exceed the numbers of employees in the corresponding text or image role within the Multi Media Journalist classification.

Notwithstanding the above, if the number of Multi Media Journalists is reduced to 21 or less, the employer shall not fill the third intern vacancy.

Notwithstanding the above, an unpaid high school student intern may assist on the city desk on a daily basis.

With the consent of the Union, the limitation above may be exceeded in special circumstances, such as election coverage. Consent will not be unreasonably withheld.

The Employer shall not retain unpaid student interns for the purpose of replacing full-time or part-time employees. If a full-time or part-time employee is on layoff with recall rights, student interns will complete their term but no new student intern will be taken in while employees are on recall.

404 Freelance

Except under extraordinary circumstances, the Employer shall not publish editorial content submitted by independent contractors that constitute a substitution for full-time or part-time bargaining unit positions and/or bargaining unit work. The nature of extraordinary circumstances shall include considerations of enterprise, exclusive access, first-person voice, specialized knowledge, frequency of contributions, proximity, timeliness, and significant competitive advantage for the newspaper.

ARTICLE 5 - NO STRIKE, NO LOCKOUT

The Employer agrees that during the term of this Agreement there will be no lockout as defined by the Labour Relations Act. The Union agrees that during the term of this Agreement there will be no strike as defined by the Labour Relations Act.

ARTICLE 6 - GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

601 Complaints and Grievances

An employee shall have the right to grieve any complaint arising from the application, interpretation, administration or alleged violation of this Agreement. It is understood that nothing contained in this Article is intended to preclude the informal discussion and review of employee concerns or complaints between employees and members of management. No employee shall have a grievance until the employee with the assistance of a Union representative if so desired, has given his or her immediate supervisor an opportunity to resolve the complaint.

602 STEP 1

It is the mutual desire of the parties hereto that grievances of employees be adjusted as quickly as possible and it is understood that if an employee has a grievance it shall be discussed with his or her supervisor within thirty (30) days of when the circumstances giving rise to the grievance were known or should reasonably have been known to the grievor in order to give the supervisor an opportunity of adjusting the grievance. The discussion shall be between the employee and/or union steward, the supervisor and a representative of the Human Resources Department. The supervisor's response to the grievance shall be given within seven (7) days after such discussion.

603 STEP 2

Failing settlement, the grievance may be taken up in the following manner and sequence provided it is presented within fifteen (15) days of the supervisor's reply to the grievance: the Union shall present the grievance in writing signed by the employee, in the case of an individual grievance, to the Editor-in-Chief or designate, setting forth the nature of the grievance, and the remedy sought. The Editor-in-Chief or designate shall arrange a meeting with the Union and a representative of the Human Resources Department within seven (7) days of the receipt of the grievance at which the grievor, in the case of an individual grievance, may attend, if requested by either party, and discuss the grievance. The Editor-in-Chief or designate may have such assistance at the meeting as is considered necessary. The Editor-in-Chief or designate will give the Union a decision in writing within seven (7) days following the meeting with a copy to the grievor.

604

In the event the grievance has not been satisfactorily settled under the foregoing Grievance Procedure, the matter shall then, by notice in writing given to the Employer within thirty (30) days of the date of the decision from the Editor-in-Chief or designate, be referred to arbitration as hereinafter provided.

605 Binding Arbitration of Disputes

- a) Any matter so referred to arbitration, including any question as to whether a matter is arbitrable, shall be heard by an independent arbitrator. The notice of the party referring the decision to arbitration shall contain the names of three neutral persons, any of whom it is prepared to accept as Arbitrator. The recipient of the notice shall within fourteen (14) days advise the other party of either its acceptance of one of the proposed persons as the arbitrator or shall suggest the names of other neutral persons it proposes to act as Arbitrator. If the recipient of the notice fails to respond, or if the two parties fail to agree upon a neutral person to act as Arbitrator within the time limits, the appointment shall be made by the Minister of Labour upon the request of either party. The Arbitrator shall hear and determine the matter and shall issue a decision. The decision shall be final and binding upon the parties and upon any employee affected by it.

- b) Either party may, in the correspondence contemplated in Article 605 notify the other party of its suggestion to proceed before a Board of Arbitration. Provided both parties agree, an Arbitrator selected to proceed in accordance with Article 605 shall be appointed as chair of the Arbitration Board. Each party shall be responsible for naming its own nominee to the Arbitration Board and will advise the other party and the Chair of the name of its nominee. Where the parties have agreed to a Board of Arbitration, references in this article to Arbitrator will be read to mean Arbitration Board, where appropriate.

No individual shall be selected as an arbitrator who has at any time been involved in attempting to resolve the grievance, or in the negotiation of this collective agreement, unless the parties mutually agree otherwise.

607

The Employer and the Union shall each pay one-half (1/2) of the remuneration and expenses of the Chair and shall each pay the remuneration and expenses of its nominee. Neither party shall be obligated to pay any part of the cost of any stenographic transcript of an arbitration hearing without its express consent.

608

It is agreed that the time limits set out with respect to grievances and arbitrations are mandatory. The time limits imposed upon either party of any step in the Grievance Procedure may be extended by mutual agreement. A request for extension of the time limit made prior to the expiry of such time limit shall not be denied on an arbitrary basis.

609

Where the Arbitration Board or Arbitrator determines that a disciplinary penalty or discharge is excessive, it may substitute such other penalty for the discipline or discharge as it considers just and reasonable in all the circumstances.

610 Employer Grievance

The Employer shall have the right to file a grievance in writing signed by the Vice-President of Human Resources or designate, with the Union within thirty (30) days of when the circumstances giving rise to the grievance were known or should reasonably have been known to the Employer. Failing settlement, a meeting will be held with the Union within seven (7) days of the presentation of the grievance and the Union shall give the Employer its written reply to the grievance in seven (7) days following the meeting. Failing settlement, such grievance may be referred to arbitration under this Article within thirty (30) days of the date the Employer received the Union's reply.

611 Policy Grievance

The Union shall have the right to file a grievance in writing with the Editor-in-Chief within thirty (30) days of when the circumstances giving rise to the grievance were known or should reasonably have been known to the Union. Failing settlement, a meeting will be held with the Union within seven (7) days of the presentation of the grievance and the Employer shall give the Union its written reply to the grievance in seven (7) days following the meeting. Failing settlement, such grievance may be referred to arbitration under this Article within thirty (30) days of the date the Union received the Employer's reply.

612 Dismissal Grievance

Grievances involving the discharge or discipline of an employee may be submitted at Step 2 of the grievance procedure.

613 Group Grievance

If two (2) or more employees have the same individual grievance arising out of the same circumstances and based on the same incident, such grievances may be combined and treated as a Group grievance.

614 Definitions

For the purpose of this Agreement, "day" means a calendar day and "grievance" means a complaint arising from the interpretation, application, administration or alleged violation of the Agreement.

ARTICLE 7 - SENIORITY & LAYOFF PROCEDURES

701 Seniority Defined

Seniority shall mean continuous service in the bargaining unit for all employees hired after the date of ratification of this contract. For Toronto Sun editorial employees who are employed as of May 13, 2004, or for

Notwithstanding the above, continuous service for the purpose of vacation and severance entitlements shall include all service with Sun Media properties.

Seniority for part-time employees shall accrue on the basis of hours worked.

702 Previous Part-Time Service

In the event a part-time employee attains full-time employment status such employee shall be entitled to credit only for straight time hours worked in the period of his continuous service immediately preceding and contiguous (excepting a break in service up to and including 14 calendar days) to his attaining full-time employment status.

Credit for such part-time service shall be calculated assuming a 35 hour workweek. Having calculated the equivalent full-time service value of such part-time service the employee shall be awarded a new seniority date based upon the equivalent full-time service. E.g. a part-time employee who worked one (1) day each week for five (5) years and then became a full-time employee would be awarded the equivalent of one (1) year of full-time service and his or her seniority date would be amended so as to reflect this accumulated service.

In the event that the above formula results in two or more employees having the same seniority date, shift fractions resulting from above formula shall be used to determine the appropriate order of seniority.

An employee who is in the bargaining unit but who then transfers to a position with the employer outside the bargaining unit for a continuous period of employment, and subsequently returns to the bargaining unit pursuant to Article 1501, shall have his seniority bridged i.e. credit for seniority accrued previously in the bargaining unit but not for subsequent continuous service outside the bargaining unit.

704 Previous Temporary Service

In the event that a temporary employee in the bargaining unit becomes a permanent employee, he shall be credited with his continuous service as a temporary employee that is contiguous (excepting a break in service up to and including 14 calendar days) to his service as a permanent employee.

705 Seniority List

The Employer shall prepare a seniority list showing the seniority date of each employee in the bargaining unit. An up-to-date copy of the seniority list shall be sent to the Union every twelve (12) months.

706 Loss of Seniority

A person shall lose all seniority and shall be deemed to have terminated employment with the Employer if he or she:

- (a) retires or voluntarily quits the employ of the Employer; or
- (b) is discharged and such discharge is not reversed through the Grievance Procedure; or

- (c) is absent for three (3) consecutive working days unless a satisfactory reason is given to the Employer; or
- (d) fails to return to work upon termination of an authorized leave of absence or fails to utilize a leave of absence for the purpose indicated at the time the leave of absence was granted unless a satisfactory reason is given to the Employer; or
- (e) is absent due to layoff for more than 18 consecutive months or;
- (f) fails to notify the Employer of his or her intention to report for work within ten (10) days from the date of delivery by courier dispatch of a notice of recall to his last place of residence known to the Employer unless a satisfactory reason is given to the Employer; or
- (g) fails to report to work after being recalled from layoff within fourteen (14) days of notifying the Employer of his or her intention to report for work, unless a satisfactory reason is given to the Employer.

707 Layoffs

The Employer may initiate involuntary layoffs of employees for reasons of increased productivity, technological advancements or improved organizational efficiency. In such circumstances, before any such layoffs are made the employer will inform the Union at least 7 days in advance of its plans and discuss other means of effecting necessary economies or efficiencies or pay seven (7) days in lieu of notice. If the lay-offs are specific to the Toronto Sun only, the employer will inform the Union at least 14 days in advance of its plans and discuss other means of effecting necessary economies or efficiencies. Notwithstanding the above, the union shall receive no less than 12 hours notice of a layoff.

708 Maximized Use of Vacancies

Prior to requiring a layoff, the affected employee(s) shall be offered the opportunity to be placed into any bargaining unit vacancy for which he can demonstrate he has the necessary skills, qualifications, and ability provided that the vacancy has not already been posted.

709 Notice to Individuals

In the event of a layoff, the Employer shall give the employees concerned eight (8) weeks' notice of such layoff and, where possible, will endeavour to give greater notice of layoff. Should employees be required to leave before the notice period has expired, they will be paid for the rest of the notice period.

An employee may request to leave before the notice period has expired. If the Employer determines that the employee may be released prior to the expiry of the notice period, he/she will forego payment for the remainder of the notice period, and shall forfeit any and all rights (excluding severance pay entitlement) under the Collective Agreement, including any recall rights that may exist.

As provided in Article 707, prior to the notification to employees, the Employer shall meet and have discussions with the union in connection with the layoff and the number of persons to be laid off in the affected job classifications. In any event, all layoffs, notice, bumping, and chain bumping must be completed within an eight (8) week period.

710 Layoffs by Reverse Seniority

Layoffs of any employee(s) within any classification shall be based upon reverse seniority.

In the application of the above and for the purposes of layoff only, separate seniority lists shall be maintained for part-time employees and full-time employees working in the same classification.

A temporary employee shall be laid off before any permanent employee in the same classification is given notice of layoff. However, the temporary employee shall not be laid off if the permanent employee who would otherwise be laid off is part-time and is unwilling to perform the additional hours that would be required as a result of the layoff of the temporary employee.

In the administration of this Article, the Employer and the Union may agree to modify layoff procedures in order to address legitimate and unique operational requirements or employee interests provided the spirit and intent of this Article is maintained.

711 Bumping

An affected employee may bump the most junior employee in an equivalent (lateral) or lower classification provided the position is held by a more junior employee and provided he or she has the demonstrable skill, ability and aptitude to competently perform the job. Any employee wishing to bump must do so within one week of receiving their notice of layoff if notice is required to be provided in accordance with Article 709.

712 New Wage Rate after Bumping

An employee who bumps into a position in an equivalent or lower classification shall be paid his current rate or the maximum for that classification, whichever is less.

713 Chain Bumping

The person so displaced may exercise a similar right to bump in accordance with Article 711 within one week.

714

Any employee who is laid off under this Article shall receive no less than the notice provided for in Article 709.

715 Bumping of Part-Time Employees

Full-time employees may bump part-time employees subject to the restrictions and provisions set out in Article 711 above. Part-time employees may not bump full-time employees.

716 Seniority While on Layoff

During layoff, seniority shall not be broken but shall not accrue, subject to the time limits specified under Article 706(e).

717 Recall to Employment

Recall of laid-off employees to available vacancies in their previously held classifications shall prevail over Article 15 (Promotion & Transfer). Affected employees shall be offered reinstatement to employment in the classification, at the previous step on the wage grid, held prior to layoff on the basis of seniority, in reverse order of their layoff, provided they have the skills, qualifications, and ability to perform the available work, before other help may be employed. Notification of recall shall be by letter addressed to his or her last known address on the Employer's records with a copy sent to the Union. The recall rights will not extend for a period longer than eighteen (18) months.

718 Recall to Part-Time or Temporary Employment

Full-time employees may decline recall to a part-time or temporary position without affecting their recall rights.

ARTICLE 8 - LEAVES OF ABSENCE

801 Personal Leave

The Employer may grant an employee's application for unpaid personal leave of absence. The Employer shall exercise its discretion fairly.

802 Union Leave

The Employer will grant leave of absence without pay to a reasonable number of employees selected by the Union for the purpose of union business not in excess of one (1) week provided reasonable notice is given to the Employer. Leaves of absence for union business greater than one week subject to Article 803, or with insufficient notice, shall be subject to operational requirements of the Employer. The Employer shall maintain the compensation of the employee on leave and the Union shall reimburse the employer for the full amount.

803 Political Office

Employees who wish to run for public office in a municipal, provincial or federal election shall first obtain from the Employer a leave of absence without pay. If elected, the Employer may require the employee to resign.

804 Full-Time Union Officers

The Employer will grant an employee a leave of absence without pay or benefits to work in an official full-time capacity for the Union, the Canadian Labour Congress or the Ontario Federation of Labour. During this time period, the employee will continue to accrue bargaining unit seniority and advance on the wage grid. Pension plan service shall only accrue if the Employer's contributions are paid by the labour organization. The employee must give the Employer one (1) month notice in writing of such a leave, or of an election that may lead to the need for such a leave and, if operational concerns require it, up to two (2) weeks more notice after the election. No more than one (1) employee may be absent on this leave at any one time.

805 Professional Leave

The Employer may grant an employee extended leave without pay or benefits of up to one (1) year, for the educational or professional purposes, none of which may be in competition with the Employer. The Employer shall consider both operational requirements and employee interests. The first part of such leave will consist of all unused vacation and accumulated overtime and this part of the leave shall be with benefits. Extended leave may be renewed upon agreement between the Employer and the employee for an additional period of up to one (1) year. The Employer will use its best efforts to return the employee to the same or a comparable job on return from such leave. If such a job is not available, the employee will be given a job and be paid the regular salary he or she received at the time the leave commenced plus any applicable general salary increases. Where the Employer denies a requested leave, it shall provide a written explanation of the reasons for the denial to the employee.

806 Effect on Seniority

The following conditions apply to leaves of absence in excess of one (1) month's duration granted under this Agreement other than union, maternity, adoption and paternity leaves of absence:

- (a) there will be no loss of seniority or benefits as accrued to the beginning of such leaves, however seniority shall not accrue and benefits shall cease during such leaves;
- (b) during such leaves the short term sickness income protection plan will not apply;
- (c) pension plan contributions cease during such leaves;
- (d) credited service for pension purposes will not accumulate during such leaves;
- (e) time off for such leaves will not be counted as time worked for the purposes of vacation pay and it will be pro-rated accordingly.

807 Family Responsibility Leave

During each calendar year on a non-cumulative basis an employee may take up to four (4) days' leave of absence with pay as a result of an emergency that affects the employee's family as defined in Article 901 (a) as well as stepchildren. The employee must report the reason for such leave(s) to his or her immediate supervisor. If an employee takes any part of a day under this section, the Employer may deem the employee to have taken one day's leave on that day. It is understood that these days are to be used for unplanned emergency rather than planned events.

808 Family Emergency Leave

The Company will consider an employee's request for a leave of absence due to a family emergency according to the following protocol:

I. Application & Conditions

The entitlement to a family emergency leave is restricted to requests regarding the family members listed the collective agreement's Bereavement Leave.

A family emergency leave must be a minimum of four (4) weeks and shall be no more than eight (8) weeks. An employee may make a special request for an extension of up to four (4) weeks.

An employee's request for an emergency leave will be granted at the Company's discretion and subject to the Company's operational needs. Limits may be placed, at the Company's discretion, on the number of employees in any one department able to take a family emergency leave during any period of time. Permission will not be unreasonably withheld.

The Company may require employees taking a family emergency leave to provide medical, or other reasonable, evidence of the need for such a leave.

An employee who has been advanced pay under this letter and who has not completed the repayment of that money before ceasing employment (for whatever reason) will still be required to repay the full amount owing to the Company. The employee will sign a direction and authorization to such effect upon the commencement, and as a condition, of such leave.

II. Protocol for Requesting and Granting Leave

Upon application in writing from the employee to the Department Head, a leave of absence to attend to a family emergency may be granted at the discretion of the Company for good and sufficient cause. The Department Head will respond to the employee's request within two (2) business days.

If a leave of absence is granted, prior to receiving any payment under paragraphs 8 or 9 below:

An employee must exhaust all available paid time off in the following order:

- i. Unused vacation carried over from the prior year;

- ii. Unbanked vacation; and,
- iii. Overtime compensation that the employee requested as time off.

An employee may use vacation for the current year.

An employee who has exhausted all available paid time off as described under paragraph 7(a), and who requires additional time off, will apply for the compassionate care benefits available under Employment Insurance (EI). Where an employee is approved for EI compassionate care benefits:

The Company shall advance payment equal to sixty percent (60%) of base pay during the two (2) week EI waiting period;

The Company will subsequently advance payment equal to the difference between the payments received from EI and sixty percent (60%) of the employee's base straight-time pay for a maximum of six (6) weeks, subject to continued government legislation and approval; and,

Upon the employee's return to work, the employee's total compensation, including incentive pay, premium pay, commission, and merit pay, will be reduced by forty percent (40%) until the amounts advanced under (i) and (ii) have been fully repaid.

An employee who has exhausted all other available paid time off, as described in paragraph 7(a) and EI benefits under paragraph 8, (or who has not qualified to receive EI benefits), and who requires additional time off, may make special application to the Company for a partial salary advance on compassionate grounds. If approved, the employee will be advanced payment equal to sixty percent (60%) of the employee's base straight-time pay. Upon the employee's return to work, the employee's total compensation, including incentive pay, premium pay, commission, and merit pay, will be reduced by forty percent (40%) until the partial salary advance has been fully repaid.

ARTICLE 14 - HOURS OF WORK

1401 Work Week

The normal work week for employees is thirty-five (35) hours over no greater than five days excluding meal periods and the normal work day is seven (7) hours excluding meal periods. For the purpose of calculating the threshold for overtime entitlement, a work day or work week includes those hours normally scheduled but not worked because of the employee's absence on paid leave.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a):

The Employer will give Columnists, Reviewers, Sports Reporters and Bureau Reporters a tentative schedule of the days and hours they will be expected to work in the following week. For clarity, it is understood that any schedule of starting times, hours or days will be subject to change for Columnists, Reviewers, Sports Reporters and Bureau Reporters and Article 1408 does not apply.
- b) Work schedules may be changed subject to the requirements of operations and affected employees will be advised in advance of the change as early as reasonably possible. If an employee is required to work on what otherwise would have been a scheduled day off and less than seven (7) days notice of such change is provided to the employee, he or she shall receive overtime premium for all work performed on that day unless the change has been made by mutual consent of the employee and the Employer.

1408 Notice of Shift Change

- a) The Employer may designate the time for an employee to report for work (but not necessarily the same time for each employee on each shift), provided that such time shall be as uniform as possible on each day or night. Any qualified internal applicants shall be granted an interview prior to any external candidate and the Employer will be precluded from interviewing suitable external candidates until first consideration has been given to qualified bargaining unit employees. Employees entitled to apply for such vacancy or new job must make application to the Editor-in-Chief or designate no later than the fourteenth (14th) calendar day. Employees who have completed their probationary period and for whom movement to the position would be a promotion or lateral move may apply. The Employer need not consider any applicant to a posting who has, within the prior twelve (12) month period successfully applied for a vacancy. Unsuccessful candidates, upon request, will be given an opportunity to meet with the Employer where they will be told why they did not receive the job.

1502 Job Opportunities

In awarding the position, the Employer must evaluate the skill, ability, and experience of the candidates. If the skill, ability, and experience of the leading candidates for the position are relatively equal, seniority will determine the successful candidate.

1503 Beats

The Employer shall post a notice to inform employees of editorial beats which the Employer intends to establish or which are not currently assigned and which the Employer intends to assign. - b) Should the successful return of an employee result in an overall addition to staff levels, the Employer fully maintains its right to adjust staff levels in accordance with prescribed protocols under the applicable Collective Agreement.
- c) In the event that an employee is fit to return to work on a gradual basis, he shall be entitled to receive his salary for the proportion of the time worked and disability insurance for the portion of time not worked, based upon the employee's regular salary or hourly earnings. In any event, the total cannot exceed the employee's normal salary.

ARTICLE 16 - DISCIPLINE AND DISCHARGE

1601 Just Cause

No employee who has completed his probationary period may be disciplined or dismissed except for just cause.

1602 Probationary Employees

An employee will be considered on probation until he or she has completed three (3) months of continuous employment with the Employer. In the case of a part-time employee, the length of the probationary period shall be determined by an equivalent number of shifts. The purpose of the probation is to evaluate the employee and provide feedback.

The Employer may upon agreement with the employee after consultation with the Union extend the probationary period for up to a maximum of three (3) additional months. In cases where a probationary period is extended, the Employer will notify the employee in writing. Upon completion of such probationary period, the employee's name shall be placed on the appropriate seniority list and the employee's seniority shall date from the date of last hiring into a bargaining unit position.

The Employer may discharge a probationary employee for any reason provided it does not act in bad faith or in conflict with any of the provisions of this Agreement.

A probationary employee who is terminated (for any reason other than a layoff) shall not receive any notice or severance pay.

1603 Human Rights

The Company and the Union agree to comply with the Ontario Human Rights Code in all respects.

1604 Union Activity

There shall be no discrimination against any employee because of lawful union activity. The Union and the Employer agree that no employee shall be discriminated against or harassed for reason of membership or non-membership.

1605 Personnel Files

Every employee shall have the right to inspect his personnel file, once a year or when an employee has filed a grievance. For the sake of clarity this does not include files or documents developed in connection with the grievance procedure. An employee shall have the right to review or make a copy of the file in the presence of management.

1606 Disciplinary Interviews

When dealing with an employee's conduct that could result in discipline, suspension or discharge, the Employer shall advise any such potentially affected employee of his or her right to Union representation. In doing so, the Employer agrees to make all reasonable efforts to secure Union representation prior to commencing the interview.

1607 Notice of Discipline

Following a disciplinary interview(s) as described in Article 1606 above, and where the Employer now intends to discipline, suspend or discharge the employee, the Employer will ensure the employee and the Union are provided with written notice of such final action, including the general reasons for the disciplinary action. Where a final decision has not been concluded following the interview, the Employer shall render its final decision in writing within seven (7) calendar days of the interview and will include with such decisions the reason(s). While the Employer understands the need for the timely administration of such disciplinary action, should a time extension become necessary the parties agree to not unreasonably withhold such a request. The Employer agrees to provide the aforementioned decision to the Union at the same time as the employee.

Nothing in this agreement shall prohibit the Employer from removing an employee from the workplace during the course of such investigation and/or contemplation of suspension or discharge action described above.

1608 Copy to the Union

Written notice of dismissal or discharge for cause shall be sent to the Union at the same time as notice is given to the employee.

1609 Removal of Discipline

It is agreed that written letters of warning and reprimand shall be removed or deemed to be removed from an employee's personnel file twenty-four (24) months from the date of issue. Records of suspension(s) shall be removed or deemed to be removed thirty (30) months from the date of issue.

In the application of the above language, the time limit provisions will not apply should further discipline be imposed within the above-referred time periods. For added clarity, the disciplinary file will remain fully active in this instance for all progressive discipline purposes.

The foregoing will have no effect on the Employer's right to rely on past conduct beyond these time limits to establish that the employee knew or ought to have known the Employer's disciplinary rules. The Employer agrees not to use such reliance for the purpose of progressing disciplinary sanction(s) beyond what the specific conduct would warrant without consideration of the previous offence.

ARTICLE 17 - VACATION

- b) An employee who is ill or injured prior to commencing vacation may reschedule his vacation to a later date if the nature and severity of the employee’s illness or injury will prevent the employee from making reasonable use of his vacation period. The Employer may require a satisfactory medical certificate verifying the nature, severity and duration of the illness or injury.

1704 Scheduling of Vacation

Vacations in each vacation group shall be allocated by using annual deadlines for submissions of requests. An employee’s vacation scheduling priority shall be determined by seniority for the first two weeks of vacation entitlement in any calendar year, provided the employee has submitted by the deadline. Once all requests have been submitted, the Employer will review and determine the vacation schedule taking into consideration operational requirements and post the approved schedule. Vacation requests submitted after the deadline shall be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis.

1705 Carry-Over of Vacation

It is management's responsibility to ensure that vacation entitlement is scheduled and used within the vacation year of September 1st to August 31st. With management approval, vacation of up to 5 days may be carried over to the next year providing it is used by November 30th.

If the amount to be reimbursed is greater than the outstanding monies, the employee shall agree to reimburse the employer with terms that are mutually acceptable.

(It is understood that out of country coverage is not included in the health plan).

It is understood the choice of option is made no later than the employee’s last day of work.
